Description

This exceptional set consists of three grand chandeliers with harmonious proportions. Each piece features an elegant, finely chiseled gilded brass frame. The central structure, made of blown and molded glass, is punctuated by stacked balusters. The suspended decoration features a profusion of high-quality crystal pendants. Scalloped plates, rosettes, and large daggers beautifully capture the light. An imposing solid crystal ball completes the composition at the base of each fixture. Each chandelier is illuminated by six richly adorned scroll-shaped arms. The faux candles that conceal the sockets perfectly mimic the flowing wax of the period. Although these pieces follow in the pure tradition of the great 18th-century masters of bronze and crystal, such as the works of Baccarat
