Description

A pair of porcelain vases with a "bleu céleste" blue base, inspired by the work of the famous Manufacture nationale de Sèvres. The vases feature a slender, ovoid body, a wide fluted neck, and two elegant gilded handles. The decoration is embellished with rich gilding and large, hand-painted oval panels depicting mythological scenes in the neoclassical style, featuring classical figures set against a landscape. The base and upper section are adorned with gilded architectural and ornamental motifs, executed with care and refinement. The overall effect is one of striking decorative impact, typical of ceremonial vases intended for formal settings. Period: 18th-19th century Condition: good, with normal signs of aging Provenance:
