Description

A beautiful pair of chandeliers featuring, in the upper section, four foliated bronze volutes that support the structure. In the center, a wide decorative band features a frieze of flowers and rosettes on a patinated background, adding a neoclassical touch. The lower section takes the form of a basket made of glass beads strung together in a net-like pattern. The piece is topped by a bronze finial shaped like a pinecone. Biography Maison Baguès, a creator of artistic lighting fixtures, was founded around 1840 by Noël Baguès in Auvergne. Specializing in liturgical bronzes, the company expanded in the late 19th century and branched into lighting fixtures thanks to the widespread adoption of electricity. In the 1920s, Baguès created its own designs in fine metalwork.
