

A. Van Emden Craniometer, Amsterdam, Circa 1840-1860

550 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Brass

Length : 28.5 cm

Description

A brass and iron craniometer designed for taking anthropometric measurements of the skull. The instrument consists of two hinged circular arms and a graduated sector for adjusting and recording measurements. It bears the engraved signature "A. van Emden Amsterdam" and can be attributed to Abraham van Emden, an instrument maker active in Amsterdam during the 19th century. Details: Date: circa 1840-1860, Origin: Netherlands, Manufacturer: Abraham van Emden, Amsterdam, Materials: brass and iron, Length: 28.5 cm, Width when closed: 20.5 cm, Function: anthropometric and craniometric measurement, Condition: wear, oxidation, patina, and signs of age.

Dealer

Art Classique

curiosités, art premier et Asiatique

Mobile : 0032-475272534

Bilzen 3740