

Two Buffalo-shaped Rhytons--china, 17th Century, Kangxi Period

6 000 EUR

Period : 17th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Porcelain

Length : 11,8cm

Height : 7,7cm

Description

Two sancai-glazed buffalo-form rhytons. China, 18th Kangxi Period (1661-1722) Height : 7,7cm Length : 11,8cm Provenance : Edward Rathbone Bacon (1846-1915) Christie's, London, 8th June 1987, lot 80 Marvin Davidson Collection Marchant Asian Art, London European private collection For a similar model, see:- Collecting Chinese Export Porcelain, Elinor Gordon, 1977, p. 93, no. 80.- Christie's Pictorial History of Chinese Ceramics, Anthony du Boulay, 1984, no. 13, p. 297. For a turquoise-glazed model, see:- The Copeland Collection: Chinese and Japanese Ceramic Figures, W. Sargent, 1991, p. 85, fig. 32. For an identical rhyton formerly with R. M. Chait Galleries, New York, see:- Sotheby's, New York, Important Americana, 24 January 2014, lot

Dealer

Galerie Drake

Chinese Porcelain & Chinese Works of Art

Mobile : 0689483023

Paris 75011

32. This pair was exhibited at the Museum für Ostasiatische Kunst, Cologne: Kostbare Chinesische Keramik, 1965, cat. no. 151, pl. 27. Restorations to the ears of both rhytons, and one restored horn. More information and photos available upon request.