Description

An elegant pair of Louis XVI-style armchairs dating from the 19th century, particularly striking for the delicacy and richness of their carving. The armchairs feature beautiful medallion-shaped backs surrounded by finely carved foliage and floral motifs, which are also found on the aprons and armrests. They rest on four tapered, fluted legs, characteristic of the Louis XVI style. The frames are painted white, lending the set a fresh, bright look. The upholstery features a lovely cotton fabric with fine green and white stripes, accented by decorative tacking. The contrast between the white woodwork and the green fabric gives them a look that is at once elegant, fresh, and timeless. A very attractive pair of armchairs, easy to incorporate into both a classic interior and a more contemporary decor, a country home, or a
