Description

Japan, mid-20th century, a delightful polychrome wooden Noh theater mask depicting the character Ko-Omote, the gentle, smiling young girl. The mask is made of wood painted in colors that highlight the facial features and hair. It bears the signature of the artist who created it, engraved on the back of the mask. In good condition, aside from slight, normal wear that does not affect its appearance. Dimensions: Height 21.2 x Width 13.7 x Depth 8 (cm). The scale reference in the last photograph is a small model of a lighter from a well-known brand. A certificate of authenticity guaranteeing the contents of this listing will be issued and provided to the buyer. We take special care with our packaging by using optimal protective materials. The shipment is sent with insurance included. Shipping rates:
