

Carrier-belleuse - Woman In Motion, Bronze

2 800 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Description

Bronze sculpture with a dark brown patina depicting a winged female figure in motion, holding an axe in her hand. The figure rests on a bronze base resembling a rock, set on a marble pedestal. Signed on the pedestal; the signature "A. CARRIER BELLEUSE" is visible on the base. Albert-Ernest Carrier-Belleuse (1824-1887) was a renowned French sculptor and one of Auguste Rodin's mentors. His works can be seen, notably, at the Musée d'Orsay, the Petit Palais, the Musée des Beaux-Arts in Lyon, and the Opéra Garnier, where two torchbearers stand at the foot of the Grand Staircase. Very interesting piece.
