Description

Refined and unique chest of drawers, finely veneered in walnut and olive burl, embellished with fruitwood fillet inlays. It features a slightly wavy shape on the top, both on the front and sides, while the lower front is arched. The piece is also distinguished by its semi-curved legs, typical of the period, and its four drawers--two small and two large--open with bronze keys and equipped with original locks, ergonomically designed for storing various objects. The chest of drawers has been recently restored and polished entirely with natural shellac, and presents itself as a very elegant and refined piece, capable of adding a touch of class and antique style to any space. Sienese-Tuscan manufacture from the Louis XV period, around the mid-18th century. Dimensions:

H x W x D 89 x 128 x 59cm
