

Silver-plated Bronze Bust Of Diane De Poitiers, After Jean Goujon - 19th Century

950 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Bronze

Description

An elegant bust depicting Diane de Poitiers, cast in silver-plated bronze, modeled after a work by Jean Goujon (c. 1510-c. 1567), a famous sculptor of the French Renaissance. This beautiful 19th-century French cast features remarkable modeling, particularly in the rendering of the face and the richly ornamented, finely detailed hairstyle. The bust rests on a gilded bronze pedestal, which in turn is mounted on an elegant red griotte marble base. The contrast between the silvery bronze, the gilded elements, and the red marble lends the piece a particularly decorative presence. The base bears the inscription "Jean Goujon," in reference to the artist who inspired this work. Total height: 40 cm
