Description

An autograph poem signed by Anna de Noailles (1876-1933) on the half-title page from her most famous collection of poetry, Le Cœur innombrable, published in 1901. Dimensions: 18.5 x 11.5 cm / with magnetic display frame (included): 21 x 15 cm. Charming verses, fresh and radiant (published in 1907 with a variation in the collection Les Éblouissements). Splendid, large signature. "Like a small, slender sun / The marigold*, bright and upright / Shines its gentle light / Over the familiar lawn / From which sudden fragrances burst forth... / O flowery heart, heart of the gardens! ...Mr. de Noailles" * Marigold: here, the flower with its famous orange hue, associated with sorrow and mourning but also with hope and healing.  "M" stands for "Countess Mathieu de Noailles."
