Description

Rustic armchair in light wood and cowhide -
Made in the second half of the 20th century
Original light wood armchair, crafted in a rustic and naturalistic style, combining a frame entirely composed of slightly irregularly shaped posts and crossbars with genuine cowhide upholstery in shades of brown, fawn, and white. The armchair stands out for its highly graphic design: the tapered front uprights extend to support large, curved armrests, while the base is reinforced by several crossbars. The seat and backrest are upholstered in natural leather, whose variations in color and pattern make this piece unique. A decorative armchair with a bold character, particularly suited to interiors such as a chalet, a country house, mountain-style decor, or a contemporary rustic setting. In good overall
