

Large Komo Mask From The Bambara People Of Mali

1 800 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Etat d'usage

Description

Large mask from the Komo society of the Bambara people of Mali, a society that disappeared, taking the secret of this mask with it. Somewhere between a dragon and a crocodile, with a long snout and small eyes, pig bristles, feathers, and a significant ceremonial crust-like patina. First half of the last century. Length 64 cm and 26 high, not including the feathers (removable), from the estate of a seafaring traveler from Le Havre.

Dealer

Galerie d'art Thierry Brusquet

Antiquités, art premier et curiosités, peinture contemporaine .

Mobile : 0618181148

86 Avenue la Fayette

Rochefort 17300