Description

A pair of Italian nightstands from the mid-20th century, crafted from walnut and walnut burl with ebonized details. The green serpentine marble top adds a touch of elegance, while the band beneath the top features a carved Greek fret that enriches the design. Each nightstand features a drawer and a central door made of walnut burl, supported by turned column-style legs with Corinthian capitals. The base is decorated with a carved Greek fret, and the legs are turned and carved, lending the pieces both sturdiness and style. The mirrored back panel is embellished with refined back-engraved fillet work and carvings of foliage and scrolls, which complete the classic charm of these pieces. Product condition: Due to its age and wear, this item requires restoration and refinishing. We strive to present the actual
