Description

A monochrome vase in turquoise Chinese 19th century porcelain with Louis XVI style mounts. Turquoise blue enamelled porcelain, gilt-bronze mounts. The vase is Chinese, 19th century, the gilt-bronze mounts probably French, late 19th century. Height including lid: 31 cm. Gilt-bronze base: 9.5 x 9.5 cm. The vase features two handles with stylized Kui motifs (a term from ancient Chinese mythology referring to the mountain demon, or rain god, depicted as a dragon). Mounted on a gilt-bronze base in the Neoclassical Louis XVI style, and with a decorated rim around the top, and a separate lid, all in the same style. The base is stamped ES. Very good condition. Very beautiful shades of blue, ranging from dark blue at the bottom to lighter blue at the top and greenish blue at the handles,
