Description

Wall-mounted holy water font in solid silver hallmarked with the Minerva mark, featuring an architectural design in the Neo-Gothic style. The openwork plaque features, at its center, the Virgin and Child in relief, standing beneath a radiant composition, framed by motifs evoking Gothic architecture: small columns, lancet arches, arcades, and foliage scrolls. The upper portion is adorned with a floral design and openwork volutes. The deeply embossed holy water font is decorated with lanceolate leaves, small flowers, and beaded motifs, in a rather elaborate design despite the object's small size. French work from the second half of the 19th century, likely around 1870-1900, a period when the Neo-Gothic style was flourishing in religious silverwork. Minerve hallmark certifying French sterling silver.
