Description

Notable "Leonardo" designer table, designed by Achille Castiglioni for Zanotta. The table is characterized by its iconic structure consisting of two adjustable legs made of wood and black-painted metal, supporting a large rectangular wooden tabletop. The unique trestle system allows for adjustment of the tabletop height, a distinctive feature of the design. A representative work of 20th-century Italian design, in which Castiglioni combines functionality, structural simplicity, and industrial aesthetics. Designer: Achille Castiglioni Manufacturer: Zanotta Model: Leonardo Type: table / work table Materials: wood and painted metal Period: 20th-century design Year: 1969
