Description

A peaceful landscape painting by André van Beek (born in 1947), depicting tall, slender trees reflected in calm water, a small boat near the shore, and a path running alongside the pond. Signed in the lower right corner, this composition captures the subtle interplay of light, color, and reflections. Soft blues and lilac hues blend with greens, pinks, and ochres. An expressive, fragmented brushstroke brings the trees and their reflections to life, while the buildings in the background add depth to the scene. The serene atmosphere and the delicacy of the color palette allow this work to fit naturally into a classic or contemporary interior. Born in Picardy to a Dutch father and a French mother, André van Beek is a self-taught painter with a Post-Impressionist sensibility. His work draws inspiration from
