Description

A vermeil sewing kit in a leather-covered case. It dates from the late 19th to early 20th century. It contains a pair of embroidery scissors, a needle case, a sewing awl, a lace needle, and a thimble. All items are hallmarked with a boar's head. They are in superb condition and appear to have been used little or not at all, as the gilding is still perfect. The case is also in superb condition.
