Description

We are proud to offer these two unique, double-sided store displays dating from the late 19th century. They were crafted from sturdy steel and charming solid pine by the renowned Toulouse-based manufacturer L. Dabos. The original shelf supports attach easily to the uprights; notably, this can be done on both sides. The entire piece rests on a superb base featuring cast-iron legs topped with claw feet. It's no coincidence that the English refer to this type of furniture as a "Whatnot": it's the ideal piece for displaying your finest collections, books, or decorative objects. While they look wonderful in a retail space, they also make a spectacular centerpiece in a residential setting. Price per unit.
