Description

Pilgrim's flask or Italian "Fiasca schicciata," dating from the 19th century, pear-shaped and made of polychrome majolica, decorated with putti on the front and theater curtains on the back. Handle shaped like a satyr's head with curled horns, adding a mythological touch; base with two loops. Dominated by shades of blue, yellow, and rosewood, the flask features meticulous details and a glossy finish. Majolica stopper with a screw mechanism. In perfect condition; note slight wear on the satyrs' noses, visible in the photos. Signed "Ginori" on the base.

Dimensions: 40 cm / 15.75" height, 13 cm / 5.12" depth, and 25 cm / 9.84" width. Additional photos are available upon request. If you have any questions or would like to arrange direct shipping, please feel free to contact me by email
