

PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

Russian Vermeil Tea Glass Holder By Grachev, Saint Petersburg, 1892

3 199 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Sterling silver

Description

Russian vermeil tea glass holder, presented in its original wooden case, crafted by the Grachev workshop in Saint Petersburg and dated 1892. The set includes a gold-plated silver tea glass holder, its original glass, a matching spoon, and a custom-fitted wooden box lined with blue velvet and silk. Inside the lid is a plaque engraved with a monogram and the commemorative inscription in English: "In remembrance of the Confirmation, Feb. 21st 1893." The silk cushion bears the Cyrillic stamp "????????, ?. ??????????" / Grachev, Saint Petersburg. The glass holder is cylindrical in shape, with an elegant handle and a gilded finish. The underside bears the Grachev hallmark, the Russian fineness mark of 84 zolotniki, and the St. Petersburg assay marks, dated 1892. The spoon also bears corresponding

Dealer

TheBestAntique

Antiques and collectibles

Mobile : +37256684125

C.R. Jakobsoni 7/1-78

Tallinn 10128

Russian hallmarks. Grachev Brothers was one of the leading Russian silversmith workshops of the late imperial period. It produced high-quality silver and vermeil objects intended for table service, official gifts, and luxury commissions. This set is a fine example of Russian ceremonial silverwork, combining a practical serving piece with a personal and commemorative inscription. Materials: Gilded silver, glass, wood, case lined with velvet and silk. Hallmarks: Grachev hallmark. Russian fineness mark 84 zolotniki. St. Petersburg assay marks. Date: 1892. Inscription: "In remembrance of the Confirmation, Feb. 21st 1893." Origin: Russian Empire, Saint Petersburg. Period: Late 19th century, 1892. Dimensions: Box dimensions: 9 × 16.5 × 16 cm. Weight: Total weight of the silver: 319.4 g. Condition: Age-related wear, slight signs of use, small scratches and scuffs on the gilding. The box shows signs of age, with wear on the interior lining and the exterior surface. The condition is shown in the photographs. SKU: K1148.1.5.041026