Description

Gilded bronze statue of Napoleon I - 19th century
An elegant bronze statuette depicting Napoleon I, standing in a solemn and characteristic pose, with his right hand tucked into his waistcoat and the other hand clasped behind his back. The figure is clad in his richly detailed military uniform: epaulets, buttons, decorations, belt, and frock coat are all finely rendered. At his side rests his famous bicorne hat, placed on a stack of books--an iconographic attribute particularly evocative of the Emperor. The ensemble rests on a rectangular, stepped pedestal, contributing to the monumentality of this small sculpture. The surface features a beautiful gilded finish, with a patina and signs of wear that highlight the relief and give the work an antique and authentic appearance. Total height: 28
