

Elegant Cherry Wood Roller Blind In The Neoclassical Style

2 400 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Description

An elegant cylindrical drop-leaf table, crafted from cherry wood and cherry wood veneer. The piece features two spacious drawers at the bottom, embellished with bronze handles and vents. The upper section features a cylindrical sliding panel; when slid backward, it reveals the leather-covered writing surface. The finely organized interior of the desk features a central open compartment and six small drawers arranged symmetrically, designed for storing documents and desk accessories. The top is complemented by an elegant openwork wooden railing with a geometric pattern, a decorative element typical of the period. The piece rests on four truncated pyramid-shaped legs, characteristic of the Neoclassical and Directoire styles. Dimensions: 113 x 65 cm - Height: 124 cm
