

Small Antique Crystal Cup, Hand-cut With Diamond-pointed Edges

90 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Crystal

Diameter : 17,5

Height : 12

Description

A flared, circular-based bowl made of cut crystal, adorned with a regular diamond-pointed lozenge pattern covering the entire surface of the body. This bowl can be used as a fruit bowl, a cookie bowl, or as a decorative piece in a display case dedicated to crystalware. In good overall condition. There are a few very slight micro-chips along the upper rim, which are subtle and barely visible to the naked eye, and do not detract from the overall appearance of the object (see the last two photographs).
