Description

Rooster - mixed media / pastel - signed - wooden frame A charming depiction of a rooster, rendered in a particularly luminous and decorative color palette. The bird, depicted in profile, stands out against a green-toned botanical background, with beautiful rendering of texture and color. The plumage combines shades of brown, ochre, white, and purple, accented by the bright red of the comb and wattles. The work is executed in a technique similar to pastel, with a free and expressive style. It bears a signature in the lower right corner, to be identified. Neatly presented under glass, with a green double-lined mat and a beautiful wooden frame, whose grain fully contributes to the charm of the piece. In good overall condition, with some signs of wear due to age and framing. Total dimensions with
