Description

A handsome Belgian Art Nouveau wall-mounted coat rack dating from the early 20th century, crafted in solid oak and showcasing the organic forms and decorative craftsmanship characteristic of the period. The design centers around a rectangular mirror framed by elegantly tapered uprights, flanked by stylized supports and crowned with a shelf fitted with four brass coat hooks. The upper and lower panels are richly carved with flowing floral motifs and intertwining stems, reflecting the naturalistic aesthetic that defined the Art Nouveau movement. The warm oak grain and sculpted decoration give the piece both visual depth and a refined architectural presence, making it an attractive addition to an entrance hall, mudroom, cloakroom, or bedroom. The original brass hooks provide practical functionality, while the mirror enhances light and space. The combination of carved ornamentation and honest craftsmanship captures the enduring appeal of Belgian Art Nouveau furniture from the years surrounding 1910. Good vintage condition with normal signs of age and use. The mirror glass displays age-related spotting and wear consistent with its age. Minor wear to the oak and brass elements contributes to the authentic patina of the piece.
