A very elegant Chinese lacquered wood bar cabinet, richly decorated with figurative scenes depicting figures in traditional Chinese landscapes. The front, sides, and top panel feature a refined decoration of mother-of-pearl inlays and polychrome materials, depicting figures, plants, bamboo, and landscapes. The cabinet reveals a particularly ingenious and functional interior, featuring numerous compartments and shelves for bottles and accessories, along with several mirrors. The side doors also conceal storage spaces. The interior is adorned with an elegant openwork panel featuring Chinese motifs. Resting on four curved legs, this piece is a particularly original work, both decorative and functional, reflecting the late 19th-century taste for Chinese art and the Far East.
