Description

Anton Prinner (1902-1983) is as fascinating as ever! Anna Prinner, a painter, printmaker, sculptor, and ceramicist born in Budapest, decided to settle in Paris in 1927 and adopted a male identity under the name Anton Prinner. Counting among her friends some of the greatest artists of the early 20th century--such as Picasso, André Breton, Viera Da Silva, and many others--Anton Prinner was particularly interested in the occult sciences, mystical philosophies, and Egyptology... Here, then, is a typical example of his work, deeply imbued with these influences: these fire pokers depicting majestic shamans in gilded bronze, each holding a staff of power. Generous dimensions; 26 cm high x 16 cm wide x 34 cm deep, as seen. The cast-iron legs are movable; the piece is in good condition. Signed on
