Description

A large, beautiful framed oil-on-canvas painting depicting a landscape titled "Marais en Campine". The Campine is a region located partly in Belgium and partly in the Netherlands. This painting was created by Léo Libert (1908-?). A painter and printmaker born in Ougrée (Belgium) in 1908, he was trained by Jean Donnay (1897-1992) and Paul Alfred Marie Daxhelet (1905-1993), and later at the Académie Julian in Paris. Our landscape is signed by the artist in the lower right corner. On the back of the canvas are the following addresses: 101 rue Ferdinand Nicolay in Ougrée and 3 rue des Prémontrés in Liège. It is also dated 1964 and countersigned by Léo Libert on the stretcher. This painting is sold with a beautiful frame. Dimensions: frame height: 81 cm length: 101 cm canvas height: 60 cm length:
