Description

Pair of Bronze Wall Sconces with Cherubs in Two Patinas, from the Napoleon III period. Elegant and Exquisite Pair of Single-Light Wall Sconces in Bronze with Two Patinas, from the Napoleon III period. These sconces, featuring rich ornamentation in gilded bronze, bronze with a brown patina, and molded glass, are adorned with a ravishing winged cherub in bronze with a brown-green patina, depicted with raised arms, supporting a leafy wreath in gilded bronze that holds a clear glass tulip with twisted sides. The cherubs have delicately modeled faces, curly hair, and small, finely chiseled wings. Their lower sections extend into tapered shafts. The light arms emerge from superb openwork gilded bronze wall plates, featuring a dynamic decoration of foliage, scrolls, and asymmetrical volutes. Their
