

Large Vietnamese Porcelain Charger From A Shipwreck Off The Coast Of Hoi An (15th Century)

1 300 EUR

Period : Before 16th century

Condition : Très bon état

Diameter : 39 cm

Height : 6 cm

Description

A rare large charger (39 cm) made of Vietnamese porcelain, or more precisely porcelainous stoneware, recovered from a shipwreck off the coast of Hoi An (Vietnam) and archaeologically dated to the 15th century. The rim is scalloped; the cobalt blue decoration is underglaze, and the characteristic bottom is spirally tinted with iron-red engobe. The narrow marli features a geometric frieze, and the cavetto a floral garland. The central decoration depicts a piebald horse amid clouds. The glaze is still very shiny. In very good condition, except for a tiny chip on the foot rim (photo 7) and a small, barely visible firing flaw (photo 6). Diameter: 39.5 cm, weight (very heavy!): 2,900 g. Reference: Butterfields, 2000: "Treasures from the Hoi An Hoard," lot 5. (photos 8-9) Free,
