Description

Antique fruitwood chest of drawers with four drawers. Elegant antique chest of drawers made of solid walnut, featuring a beautiful, warm patina with blonde and amber hues, highlighted by rich and expressive grain. The front features four well-proportioned drawers, adorned with small patinated brass keyholes. The top drawer is topped by a molded crossbar, also known as a "doucine," while the top features a discreet frame and understated lines. This chest of drawers is unique due to its solid wood construction; most chests of drawers from this period are made of veneer. The interiors are meticulously finished and varnished. A charming piece of furniture with harmonious proportions, ideal for both traditional interiors and more contemporary decor, where it will add warmth and authenticity. Period: 19th
