Description

A neoclassical sculpture in the antique style depicting the Greek or Roman goddess Hestia or Vesta, goddess of the hearth. Exquisitely crafted, with beautifully balanced forms and exquisite chiseling of the details, particularly evident in the face. The marble is of exceptional quality and a magnificent white hue. A 19th-century classical sculpture based on a major classic from ancient Greece, which was in vogue in the mid-19th century during the Grand Tour and travels through ancient Italy. In remarkable condition for such a large work; height: 60 cm. Owned by the same family since the 19th century. Shipping available within France and worldwide via a professional, specialized carrier with insured packaging. Invoice and certificate provided. Pickup available on-site at Mas
