Description

A rare and beautiful 19th-century curiosity depicting a medieval wooden fortress on a steep hill, crafted from 18th-century paper coated with variegated marble powder; With its stately appearance, this delicate depiction of a fortified castle is an artist's dream from around 1840, evoking nostalgia for chivalric epics and feudal lordships. A delicate and romantic piece created during the reign of Louis-Philippe, not without its charm; the materials used and the quality of the details in a meticulous composition all contribute to the magic of the dream--that of a medieval France so prized in the 19th century... A beautiful, inspired decorative piece--not without its charm--in very good condition.
