

Platinum Earrings With Emerald-cut Aquamarines Weighing Approximately 13 Carats And Diamonds

3 600 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Parfait état

Material : Platinum

Description

A pair of platinum earrings featuring two aquamarines weighing approximately 6.50 carats each, for an estimated total weight of 13 carats. Cut into rectangular, beveled emerald shapes, the aquamarines reveal a delicate light blue hue. Designed in a mirror-image configuration, each aquamarine is accentuated by an openwork setting featuring floral and foliage motifs, with a flower crowning the stone while plant-like curves trace its contours. The set is enhanced by 42 8/8-cut diamonds, totaling approximately 0.75 carats. Measuring 24 × 15 mm each, these earrings make a beautiful statement on the ear. Their clip closures allow them to be worn on unpierced ears. Metal: platinum Main stones: two emerald-cut aquamarines, approx. 6.50 carats each Diamonds : 42 8/8-cut diamonds, totaling
