

Silk Damask Strip With Vases, Pomegranates And Carnations, Italy, 17th Century

450 EUR

Period : 17th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Silk

Width : 62cm

Height : 164cm

Description

Silk Damask Strip with Vases, Pomegranates and Carnations, Italy, 17th Century

Crimson red silk damask.

Dimensions: 164 × 62 cm (64.57 × 24.41 inches).

Strip composed of four rectangular sections of fabric sewn together. The fully Baroque decoration features gadrooned vases holding arrangements of large leaves, stylised pomegranates and carnations, surrounded by scrolling stems and volutes. The contrast between the lustrous and matte surfaces of the weave defines the pattern.

Italian manufacture, probably Florentine. Retains antique openwork passementerie with a short fringe matching the damask, together with an antique lining.

Shows signs of age. The richness of the Baroque

Dealer

Antichità di Alina

Peintures anciennes - Art nouveau - Art déco, micromosaïques, porcelaine

Mobile : +39 3383199131

Via Maggio 63 / rosso

Firenze 50100

motifs and the flowing movement of the floral arrangements give the piece a striking decorative presence.