Description

Charles Dudouyt (1885-1946). Rare oak chair stamped "L'Abeillée," a workshop founded in Pontoise and associated with the French decorator and designer Charles Dudouyt. A very beautiful design, characteristic of French furniture from the interwar period: a solid oak frame, a wooden seat, and a high, scroll-cut backrest topped with an elegant heart-shaped motif. The piece features a highly graphic design blending rustic, Art Deco, and modernist influences, typical of the creations of Charles Dudouyt and the L'Abeillée workshop during the 1920s and 1930s. The chair bears a stamp directly on the wood beneath the seat, visible in the photo. A vintage chair with distinctive decorative character and a rare design. Condition: in good, solid condition; as found, there is a crack in the thick, solid seat (see
