Description

Stunning Chinese Coffee Table in Red and Gold Lacquered Wood - Early 20th Century Period: Early 20th century - circa 1900-1930A very beautiful and elegant Chinese-style coffee table in red lacquered wood, with rich polychrome and gilded decoration, dating from the early 20th century. This charming square table stands out for the quality of its craftsmanship, its harmonious lines, and the richness of its Far Eastern-inspired ornamentation. It features a magnificent deep red lacquer, embellished with delicate polychrome floral motifs, foliage, and stylized scrollwork, generously accented with gilding. Its openwork band, which is particularly decorative, is adorned with Chinese-inspired geometric motifs highlighted with gilding, lending the piece great finesse and lightness. It rests on four large, curved feet with scrollwork, characteristic of Asian-inspired furniture, whose elegant curves are highlighted by gilded fillets. The scalloped crossbars, richly decorated with flowers, foliage, and gilded scrolls, showcase beautiful ornamental craftsmanship. Its 74 × 74 cm square glass top, framed in red lacquered wood, allows the table's openwork structure to be appreciated while lending it great elegance. The combination of deep red, polychrome decorations, and gilded accents gives it a particularly refined presence. This table will naturally find its place in a living room, a collector's home, or a contemporary setting, where it will add a lovely touch of exoticism and refinement.
