Description

Small wall sconce signed Daubrée in Nancy - Napoleon III period. Small Louis XVI-style wall sconce from the Napoleon III period, combining a veneered wooden base with chiseled and gilded bronze ornamentation. The decoration consists of a radiant sun mask at the top, surmounting a lyre adorned with a garland. Cascading foliage frames the dial, crowned with a ribbon bow, while a pendant motif completes the lower section. The white enamel dial, signed "Daubrée - Nancy," features a delicate polychrome floral design arranged in garlands. The hours are indicated by black Arabic numerals and the quarter-hours by red numerals. Two ornate hands complete the ensemble. A small-scale model whose decoration subtly echoes the ornamental vocabulary of the Louis XVI style. In very good working condition.
