Description

Pair of Voltaire armchairs in walnut - 19th century
A beautiful pair of Voltaire armchairs in walnut, dating from the 19th century. These two armchairs feature tall, slightly sloped backs with rounded tops, offering excellent seating comfort. They feature beautiful, ornate armrests ending in volutes, with fabric-upholstered arm pads. They rest on four legs, the front legs of which are elegantly curved. The walnut frames display a beautiful patina and attractive grain. The upholstery has been completely restored using a stunning fabric with a polychrome floral pattern on a black background, accented with a studded finish. The two armchairs are not exactly the same model, but they harmonize perfectly thanks to their identical upholstery. They can also be paired with a 19th-century walnut Restoration-style
