

PROANTIC

LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

Ecce Homo, Bust Of Christ With A Crown Of Thorns - Bronze

600 EUR

Signature : Michel Léonard Béguine (1855-1929)

Period : 20th century

Condition : En l'etat

Material : Bronze

Height : 29

Description

Michel Léonard Béguine (1855-1929) - Ecce Homo, bust of Christ with a crown of thorns - Patinated bronze, circa 1900 Bust of Christ with a crown of thorns in bronze with a brown patina, a work by the sculptor Michel Léonard Béguine (1855-1929). Christ is depicted with his head tilted toward the sky, his eyes half-closed, and his mouth slightly parted. The crown of thorns rests on his hair, while his beard and strands of hair frame his face. The rendering of the face and the expression of suffering are in keeping with the iconographic tradition of the Ecce Homo, a depiction of Christ during his Passion. The bust rests on a pedestal with a quadrangular base. The signature "M. Béguine" is engraved on the base. Michel Léonard Béguine (1855-1929) A French sculptor active in the late 19th and early

Dealer

Le Printemps des Siècles

Antiquaire Généraliste

Mobile : 0607679767

9 Boulevard Miredames

Castres 81100

20th centuries. His work focuses in particular on the representation of the human figure and religious subjects, in the tradition of French sculpture of that period.