Description

Large silver ladle crafted in the expressive style of Russian Modernism, featuring the sculptural lines characteristic of the period and a decorative handle with an intricate silhouette. The asymmetrical shape of the body, the pronounced curvature of the sides, and the open joints of the handle underscore the object's place among the fine artistic silverwork of the early 20th century. The interior is adorned with original gilding, enhancing its decorative character and lending the piece a ceremonial and festive function. Hallmarks: Fine silver hallmark "84" in an oval cartouche featuring a woman's head wearing a kokoshnik; master's mark "5A" (5th jewelers' artel), Moscow, early 20th century. Dimensions: Length: 27 cm, Width: 15 cm, Height at the handle: 14.5 cm Weight: 348
