Description

An elegant pair of silver vases from the Louis Comfort Tiffany collection, made in the United States in the first half of the 20th century. These vases feature a refined baluster shape with balanced proportions, adorned with a stylized floral design characteristic of the Art Nouveau style. The organic lines that wrap around the body mimic the natural movement of stems and blossoming buds, expressing the philosophy of the union between nature and art, so dear to the artisans at Tiffany & Co. The finesse of the engraving and the smoothness of the relief transitions highlight the exceptional craftsmanship and impeccable quality control of this legendary house. Such pieces were designed both for private clients and for the company's international exhibition program. Hallmarks:
