Description

This necklace is an original creation made from horseshoes from the 1960s and 1970s. A one-of-a-kind piece, this necklace features horseshoes arranged in vertical rows to create a movable front panel in a brutalist or industrial style. A true classic of artist jewelry from the 1960s and 1970s. Designers of that era used the raw geometric shape, square head, and steel texture of these nails to create unique sculptural pieces. They are rarely signed by their creators; however, each nail is marked with a highly recognizable hallmark from the prestigious Mustad blacksmith shop. Still in operation today, the Mustad blacksmith shop originated in Norway. This necklace has its original clasp. Original patina, no missing parts, no restoration. Note: Pieces made with Mustad nails
