Description

This Louis XVI-style chest of drawers embodies all the elegance and refinement of neoclassical cabinetmaking through its precise structure featuring perfectly symmetrical architectural lines. Entirely clad in rosewood and violetwood veneers alternating with walnut, the piece showcases beautiful marquetry work. The front features two large drawers, where strips of violetwood and rosewood form geometric frames. Each drawer is fitted with a delicate keyhole topped by a Louis XVI knot and beaded ring handles. These bronze fittings add a subtle touch of brilliance to the front, perfecting this masterpiece. The top surface features, at its center, a superb, finely inlaid "star of the winds" rosette. This geometric precision continues harmoniously along the straight sides, which
