Description

Oak cigar box with a mechanism that allows the drawer and sliding door to open simultaneously.

Cedar interior. Handle, lock, and trim in silver.

Plaque with the inscription "Presented to W.H.

Moulsdale as a token of esteem from Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Shofield & Family--December 25,

1908 "England," London, 1905-1908.

Silversmith: CB & Sons. This model with a slatted system is typically British. Several versions in mahogany and so-called "Coromandel" wood were produced for a wealthy and discerning clientele. The "smoker's case," as it is called in France, would have a completely different design. Provenance: "Around Cigars" exhibition and sale, Paris, 2005, lot 104.
