Description

Large antique painting, oil on canvas, depicting a countryside landscape with a young man holding a basket of game Early 20th century Oil on canvas depicting a country path winding through a landscape of moors and meadows, beneath a sky with delicate shades of pink. In the foreground, a young boy wearing an ochre hat walks along the path, carrying a basket filled with game. The composition stands out for its peaceful atmosphere, its subtle palette of greens, bluish grays, and earthy tones, as well as the soft light of the twilight sky. The supple and nuanced brushwork sensitively captures the charm of a scene from rural life. The canvas features a beautiful, decorative format, ideal for a country home or a home with character.
