Description

Lorraine Wardrobe in Oak and Quetschier, Mid-19th Century
Beautiful mid-19th-century Lorraine wardrobe, crafted from oak and quetschier (plum wood). The front opens with two doors featuring three molded panels and beautiful marquetry. The front is adorned with floral carvings on the upper crossbar and on the scalloped trouser rack, a characteristic feature of traditional Lorraine furniture. The lower section features two large drawers, while the trouser compartment, located at the bottom, was traditionally used for storing trousers. A distinctive regional piece of furniture, combining high-quality carpentry, carved decorations, and a rich variety of wood species. Dimensions: Height including cornice: 228 cm Width including cornice: 192 cm Depth including cornice: 57 cm
