Description

A monumental Art Nouveau vase in patinated terracotta produced by the renowned Friedrich Goldscheider manufactory. Signed by the sculptor Alphonse-Jean Lavergne (1863-1928), with the signature engraved in relief on the piece. The Goldscheider factory (Vienna, Austria) is renowned for its terracotta and art ceramics from the late 19th and early 20th centuries. The vase depicts a hunting nymph draped in the classical style, accompanied by her dogs/greyhounds, at the base of a shaft representing a tree trunk flaring outward toward the top with chiseled foliage. It bears Laver's handwritten signature in intaglio and the intaglio stamp of the Goldscheider workshop/manufactory with the notation "REPRODUCTION RESERVED." It is a collector's item.
